Over the Hills and Through the Woods....

If you are planning on traveling over the hills and through the woods (or even just down the highway) this Holiday season, please don't forget to get your car and equipment winter-ready! Snow storms can hit fast - and whether you have a break-down or an accident, sometimes it's just that granola bar, pair of gloves, or merely the feeling of being prepared that can change a situation from 'disastrous' to 'manageable'.

Build an Emergency Kit

Your car emergency kit should include the following items:

- Water and Food (crackers or trail mix)
- Flashlight and Batteries
- First Aid Kit
- Boots, hat, gloves and rain poncho
- Blanket
- Basic Tool Kit and Spare Tire
- Paper, Pen, Insurance Card
- Plastic Garbage Bags

Consider Rental Reimbursement Coverage

Rental Reimbursement Coverage pays for a rental car if your car is out of commission due to a covered insurance claim. What might be a quick fix by a body shop any other time of year could become a long-term wait if repairs are backed up after a Puget Sound storm. (Nick waited over 3 weeks for minor body work to be completed several winters ago.) Unless you have more cars than drivers in your home, the approximately $30 per year cost per car will seem minor compared to the hassle if you have a claim. Call us at 425-379-9200!
